SUGGESTED REPLY

Dear Mr. Squire:

Thank you for your letter of June 28. I have asked the State Department to look into the question regarding Spandau Prison in Berlin which you raised in your letter.

The State Department has informed me that the operating costs for the prison are not paid for by the American Government. They are charged to the budget of the city of Berlin. The only direct expenses incurred by the American Government in connection with the administration of the prison are the salaries of the six United States wardens who serve along with British, French, and Russian warders. The military guards for the prison include units assigned from the United States military garrison in Berlin.

Spandau Prison is administered by the United States, British, French, and Russian Commandants in Berlin pursuant to Allied Control Council for Germany Directive No. 35 of September 7, 1946. Changes in its administration require the consent of all Four Powers.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Eurt Squire,
